ACRA “Play the Ball” Contest

Each foursome will be given a numbered golf ball. A member of the foursome plays a hole with this ball, after finishing the hole, the ball is given to the next member of the foursome to use for the next hole. This process continues until the end of the round. If that ball is still in play at the end of the round, the ball is turned in to the golf committee collector, the foursome is eligible for a prize.

Door Prizes and Raffle Prizes

Every golfer will receive a gift when registering. Additional prizes are available. An ACRA volunteer will go to each table. Each golfer will choose a ticket from a container. If the ticket has a number, the golfer claims the prize corresponding to that number. Some of the tickets are marked with an “X” - this unfortunately, indicates that there is no corresponding prize. Tickets will be on sale at registration and dinner for a raffle of special prizes. The cost is $5 each, 3 for $10 or an arm’s length for $20.
